Note: This fact sheet presents the most recent data for older adults living and for senior nutrition programs receiving federal funding through the Older Americans Act in the United States. Data were collected in 2018-2019 unless noted otherwise and therefore to not reflect any changes due to the pandemic. In order to provide the most recent and accurate sources, some facts are from different sources than were used in previous years. Generally, caution should be taken if comparing data with data from previously published fact sheets.
